

THE MARKETS.

TOTAL RECEIPTS TO-DAY.

New-York, September 15, 1893.
Brewery, pugs.	2	bushels.
Brown, bales	61	bushels.
Cotton, bales	912	bushels.
C.S. dried fruit, pugs.	53	bushels.
Dried fruit, pugs.	57	bushels.
Eggs, bbls.	5,000	bushels.
B.W. flour, pugs.	21,842	bushels.
Cornmeal, bbls.	250	bushels.
Cream, bbls.	1,384	bushels.
Cream, bbls.	369	bushels.
Wheat, bush.	332,473	bushels.
Corn, bush.	207,900	bushels.
Malt, bush.	11,230	bushels.
Puffed, bags.	4,174	bushels.
Grass seed, bags.	83	bushels.
	1,288	bushels.

EXPORTS TO-DAY.

Exports To-Day.
Wheat, bush.	99,200	cattened oil, gals.
Corn, bush.	40,000	coffee, bush.
Oats.	815	petrol, gals.
Flour, bbls.	10,670	lubricating oil, gals.
Flour, sacks.	13,494	oats.
Cotton, bbls.	516	beef, bbls.
Oil meal, bbls.	3,220	lard, bbls.
Pean.	1,840	lard, pugs.
Pasta, bush.	2,220	lard, sacks.
Wheat, bush.	332,473	cheese, pugs.
Corn, bush.	207,900	hams, chaf.
Malt, bush.	11,230	hams, lard.
Puffed, bags.	4,174	tobacco, pugs.
Grass seed, bags.	83	whisky, bush.
	1,288

CASH QUOTATIONS TO-DAY.

Cash Quotations To-DAY.
Iron, No. 1 founders	$14.25	Turnspit.
Steel rails	29.00	Lard, prime, Western.
Copper, lake, ingot	9.25	Beef, dressed.
Lead, spot	20.33	Rice, prime, Carolina.
Cotton, middlings	38.40	Short, granulated.
Cotton, stover	4.40	Beef, fat.
Flour, Milled, patents	18.40	18-mash, prime.
Wheat, No. 1 mixed	10.87	Cheese, fancy, fancy.
Oats, No. 2 mixed	3.11	Cheese, large size.
No. 2 Western	3.22	Eggs, best, Western.
Mossees, prime N.O.	2.22

THE GENERAL MARKET REPORT.

New-York, September 15, 1893.—COTTON.—The New-York cotton market opened better by 9 to 11 points on the better showing by the Liverpool future market and a better demand for spot cotton. The market was firm, and the price of which 3,000 bales were British cotton sold late yesterday. There was a good deal of covering and considerable long buying, but new vessels had come in, and under the favorable influence January advanced to 872, an improvement of 14 points over yesterday's price. The interior market, after showing an increased interest over last year, and under this influence, combined with free selling by those who had bought cotton this morning, was 3 points under yesterday's spot, or 18 points lower than the highest price touched during the day on January 1st. All cotton, except bull spread, was up, and boosted up still more by these prices ruling at 1 o'clock: October, $20; November, 82; December, 84; January, 85; February, 87; March, 88; April, 89; May, 90. Cotton, No. 1 founders, $14.25; Steel rails, 29.00; Copper, lake, ingot, 9.25; Lead, spot, 20.33; Cotton, middlings, 38.40; Cotton, stover, 4.40; Flour, Milled, patents, 18.40; Wheat, No. 1 mixed, 10.87; Oats, No. 2 mixed, 3.11; No. 2 Western, 3.22; Mossees, prime N.O., 2.22.

Opening range and close today, and closing bids the previous night and last were:

Opening, Low. Closing. Last night.

September 14, 8.15. Today.

October 10, 8.31. Yesterday.

November 15, 8.49. Yesterday.

December 20, 8.61. Yesterday.

January 25, 8.66. Yesterday.

February 29, 8.83. Yesterday.

March 14, 8.89. Yesterday.

April 18, 8.93. Yesterday.

May, Market close, firm. Transferable order issued at $15.

Total sales, 187,400 bales.

New-York spot market today and last night: For consumption, 1,000 bales; spot market, 1,237 bales; spot market steady; middlings, 84%, which is unchanged as compared with yesterday.

Quotations are based on American standard of classification and cotton in store, running in quality no more than half a grade above or below the grade quoted.

Opening range and close today, and closing bids the previous night and last were:

Opening, Low. Closing. Last night.

September 14, 8.15. Today.

October 10, 8.31. Yesterday.

November 15, 8.49. Yesterday.

December 20, 8.61. Yesterday.

January 25, 8.66. Yesterday.

February 29, 8.83. Yesterday.

March 14, 8.89. Yesterday.

April 18, 8.93. Yesterday.

May, Market close, firm. Transferable order issued at $15.

Total sales, 187,400 bales.

New-York spot market today and last night: For consumption, 1,000 bales; spot market, 1,237 bales; spot market steady; middlings, 84%, which is unchanged as compared with yesterday.

The market is very nervous and responds quickly to slight effect on the basis of news from Europe. Advances indicate a further movement next week. There was a decline during the afternoon on a free vessel, and boosted up again to the lowest point.

Opening range and close today, and closing bids the previous night and last were:

Opening, Low. Closing. Last night.

September 14, 8.15. Today.

October 10, 8.31. Yesterday.

November 15, 8.49. Yesterday.

December 20, 8.61. Yesterday.

January 25, 8.66. Yesterday.

February 29, 8.83. Yesterday.

March 14, 8.89. Yesterday.

April 18, 8.93. Yesterday.

May, Market close, firm. Transferable order issued at $15.

Total sales, 187,400 bales.

New-York spot market today and last night: For consumption, 1,000 bales; spot market, 1,237 bales; spot market steady; middlings, 84%, which is unchanged as compared with yesterday.

The market is very nervous and responds quickly to slight effect on the basis of news from Europe. Advances indicate a further movement next week. There was a decline during the afternoon on a free vessel, and boosted up again to the lowest point.

Opening range and close today, and closing bids the previous night and last were:

Opening, Low. Closing. Last night.

September 14, 8.15. Today.

October 10, 8.31. Yesterday.

November 15, 8.49. Yesterday.

December 20, 8.61. Yesterday.

January 25, 8.66. Yesterday.

February 29, 8.83. Yesterday.

March 14, 8.89. Yesterday.

April 18, 8.93. Yesterday.

May, Market close, firm. Transferable order issued at $15.

Total sales, 187,400 bales.

New-York spot market today and last night: For consumption, 1,000 bales; spot market, 1,237 bales; spot market steady; middlings, 84%, which is unchanged as compared with yesterday.

The market is very nervous and responds quickly to slight effect on the basis of news from Europe. Advances indicate a further movement next week. There was a decline during the afternoon on a free vessel, and boosted up again to the lowest point.

Opening range and close today, and closing bids the previous night and last were:

Opening, Low. Closing. Last night.

September 14, 8.15. Today.

October 10, 8.31. Yesterday.

November 15, 8.49. Yesterday.

December 20, 8.61. Yesterday.

January 25, 8.66. Yesterday.

February 29, 8.83. Yesterday.

March 14, 8.89. Yesterday.

April 18, 8.93. Yesterday.

May, Market close, firm. Transferable order issued at $15.

Total sales, 187,400 bales.

New-York spot market today and last night: For consumption, 1,000 bales; spot market, 1,237 bales; spot market steady; middlings, 84%, which is unchanged as compared with yesterday.

The market is very nervous and responds quickly to slight effect on the basis of news from Europe. Advances indicate a further movement next week. There was a decline during the afternoon on a free vessel, and boosted up again to the lowest point.

Opening range and close today, and closing bids the previous night and last were:

Opening, Low. Closing. Last night.

September 14, 8.15. Today.

October 10, 8.31. Yesterday.

November 15, 8.49. Yesterday.

December 20, 8.61. Yesterday.

January 25, 8.66. Yesterday.

February 29, 8.83. Yesterday.

March 14, 8.89. Yesterday.

April 18, 8.93. Yesterday.

May, Market close, firm. Transferable order issued at $15.

Total sales, 187,400 bales.

New-York spot market today and last night: For consumption, 1,000 bales; spot market, 1,237 bales; spot market steady; middlings, 84%, which is unchanged as compared with yesterday.

The market is very nervous and responds quickly to slight effect on the basis of news from Europe. Advances indicate a further movement next week. There was a decline during the afternoon on a free vessel, and boosted up again to the lowest point.

Opening range and close today, and closing bids the previous night and last were:

Opening, Low. Closing. Last night.

September 14, 8.15. Today.

October 10, 8.31. Yesterday.

November 15, 8.49. Yesterday.

December 20, 8.61. Yesterday.

January 25, 8.66. Yesterday.

February 29, 8.83. Yesterday.

March 14, 8.89. Yesterday.

April 18, 8.93. Yesterday.

May, Market close, firm. Transferable order issued at $15.

Total sales, 187,400 bales.

New-York spot market today and last night: For consumption, 1,000 bales; spot market, 1,237 bales; spot market steady; middlings, 84%, which is unchanged as compared with yesterday.

The market is very nervous and responds quickly to slight effect on the basis of news from Europe. Advances indicate a further movement next week. There was a decline during the afternoon on a free vessel, and boosted up